Malamene Wong

Hello, I'm Malamene Wong and here's a little about me. I was born and raised in Samoa. I graduated from BYU Hawaii with a bachelor's degree in Mathematics. I've been a teacher for 43 years and I've been at OPA for the last 10 of those. Go OPA! One of my hidden talents is that I was a track star during my high school days. Another is that I was a dancer at the Polynesian Cultural Center during college. One of my passions is reading math books! I love my family more than anything and would do anything for them. I work hard to support them and be the best I can be for them. During the summer we go on vacation around the west coast and my favorite vacation spot is the Oregon coast.
